

SHE SMILED SWEETLY

On the Manly Man in the Full Vigor of His Magnetic Manhood.

No Use Now-a-Days for Fussy, Debitated Individuals—Everybody Can Be Quickly, Easily, Permanently Made Happy.

Sparkling eyes, a quick beating heart and the rosy blush of pleasure greet the strong, manly man, when he meets his lady love. That is the kind of man whose every touch thrills because it is full of energy, the kind of man that every man should be, and his magnetic presence would make everybody happy around him. Why is it not so? One of the principal reasons is the universally prevailing tobacco habit. Tobacco kills nerves. Stay with tobacco long enough, and every man will be a shallow, skinned, nerveless wreck, inspiring disgust instead of love and affection. No man who uses tobacco can be as much of a man as without it.

No grasp as strong as the death grip of a habit, and man once fully in its clutches is helpless without aid. That's why every tobacco user has the same good excuse—"I can't quit." No-To-Bac removes this only excuse, and any one who will quit easily, quickly and permanently. Here's an instance:

MADE HIS WIFE HAPPY.
CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 5.
Dear Sirs: No-To-Bac has done more for the use of tobacco, and the result of the treatment has been a surprise to myself and friends. Now when I am offered a chew or smoke by my friends it is declined with thanks, and I refer them to No-To-Bac. I could not believe how many times my wife has thanked you No-To-Bac for what it has done in my case.

This is only one of thousands. Talk with your wife about it, and start your cure today.

No-To-Bac is not sold on the recommendation of men like Mr. McCully, one of over 300,000 cases cured, but can be obtained from any druggist in the United States or Canada under absolute guarantee of cure or money refunded.

Our booklet, "Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away," written by a doctor of cure and sample sent free. Address, The Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

SPECIAL SALE!

Bargains in UPRIGHT PIANOS

The following Second-Hand Upright Pianos will be sold at a sacrifice to close out the stock. The better ones in the line are practically as good as new.

- 1 New York Piano Co., upright case, $115.
- 1 Starr & Co., mahogany finish, $225.
- 1 Wessler Bros., ebony finish, $140.
- 1 Wessler Bros., mahogany case, $135.
- 1 Hallett & Davis, elegant case, ebony, with gilt ornamentation, cost $300; large size, $225.
- 1 Lyon & Healy, upright case, $115.
- 1 Lyon & Healy, ebony case, $125.
- 1 Lyon & Healy, ebony case, $140.
- 1 Lyon & Healy, mahogany case, $115.
- 1 Lyon & Healy, mahogany case, $175.
- 1 Marshall & Wardell, upright case, $120.
- 1 New York Piano Co., ebony case, $135.
- 1 C. P. Pease & Co., mahogany case, $175.
- 1 Keller Bros., mahogany case, $155.
- 1 Keller Bros., oak, $135.
- 1 Story & Camp, upright case, $20.
- 1 French make, Brizzi & Nicolai, rosewood, $110.

The above Prices include good second-hand stool and cover, delivered anywhere in the city, or boxed at depot.

E. B. GUILD,
713-715 Kansas Av., TOPEKA, KAN.

IN LINE ALL RIGHT.

Paderewski Creates a Demand for Tickets in "Frisco."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—The interest in the famous Polish pianist, Ignace Paderewski, has assumed a peculiar condition here.

When the ticket opened for the sale of tickets people began standing in line at where the tickets were to be sold as early as 10 a. m., the day before tickets began selling.

There was a straggling half dozen at first and the number remained about the same till toward evening, when it increased greatly. Before 10 o'clock at night there were 60 persons by actual count who had been engaged to wait all night to buy tickets.

The price is $5 for anywhere on the lower floor, $3 for the balcony and $2 for the gallery.

WICHITA & RETURN $4.62

Via the Great Rock Island Route.

Leaving Topeka at 1:10 p. m. and arriving at Wichita at 6:45 p. m., going through without a change. Remember you do not leave Topeka until after dinner. Also, another train leaving Topeka at 10:50 p. m., arriving at Wichita at 4:30 a. m. Through sleepers on night trains. For further information call on your nearest Rock Island agent.

A. M. FULLER,
City Passenger Agent.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, "DR."

CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

THE PEOPLE DO NOT CARE

Who is Delegate at Large, Says Governor Osborn.

WOULD LIKE TO GO HIMSELF.

But Won't Get Down in the Dirt and Fight For It—Caldwell's Power Will Not Be Great if He Does Win.

Ex-Governor Thomas A. Osborn, who is at home, after an extended stay in New York and Washington, says he does not find the intense interest in the contest for delegate at large to the Republican national convention he had expected.

To a STATE JOURNAL reporter Governor Osborn said: "It seems to me that the people are not very greatly interested in this contest, at least I have not heard very much about it during the few days I have been at home."

"Are you still a candidate for delegate to the national convention?" asked the reporter.

"Under the existing conditions, with these other two gentlemen from Topeka, (Judge J. B. Johnson and Major T. J. Anderson) in the field as candidates, I most surely am not, but I do not hesitate to say that if the conditions were otherwise, I should be. I would like to go to the national convention as a delegate-at-large but not bad enough to get down in the dirt and make a fight for it, and I morally will not do that."

Speaking of the position of member of the Republican national committee, Gov. Osborn said: "That is a position the importance of which has been very greatly over-estimated."

"A national committee does not have very much power. In the matter of distributing patronage he surely can not claim to be a dictator, as the senators and congressmen are the men who look after those matters. For instance, if the next national administration is Republican the congressman from this district will have the say as to who shall be appointed postmaster in Topeka, and United States Senator Baker will be consulted before a pension agent is named for this office."

"As a matter of fact Mr. Leland has more influence by reason of his being chairman of the state central committee than by his position on the national committee. The anxiety of the people to get rid of Mr. Leland has caused them to overestimate the importance of the position of national committee member according to my notion."

DOUBT IN THE STATE HOUSE.

How the State Officers Stand on the Question of Renomination.

There is a good deal of guessing in political circles as to whether General Dawes, and Treasurer Atherton will be candidates for renomination this year.

Two weeks ago Lieutenant Governor Troutman announced his determination to decline a renomination for lieutenant governor, and last week State Auditor Geo. E. Cole and State Superintendent Stanley announced that they would again be candidates for the offices they now hold.

Governor Morrill has been working for a renomination ever since he has been in office, and now that three of the men who were elected on the ticket with him have declared their political intentions for the coming campaign, the three people would like to know whether the other three state officers are going to do.

When Lieutenant Governor Troutman announced his determination not to be a candidate for re-election, his action was in many quarters declared to mean that the lieutenant governor had seen the handwriting on the wall, and was taking that means to prevent being carried down to defeat on a ticket headed by Governor Morrill.

In these same quarters it is now suggested that Attorney General Dawes, secretary of State Edwards and Treasurer Atherton are waiting to see if Gov. Morrill can't be induced to decline a renomination before they, too, announce that they will not stand for re-election. They would not doubt but that they would be re-elected if they were assured that Governor Morrill would retire and that a new man would be placed at the head of the ticket.

A good deal has been said about the success of Governor Morrill's business administration in saving the state money but the facts are that the man to be credited with heading off raids on the treasury is Auditor Cole, who will no doubt be renominated by acclamation.

The fact that Auditor Cole formally announced himself a candidate for re-election, is not pleasing to the officials who have not made such announcements.

Attorney General Dawes said this morning: "I never heard of an officer in any state making an announcement that he would be a candidate for a second term, until Auditor Cole made his announcement. I have always considered that it is always expected that a failed officer would be accorded a second term without making an announcement of his candidacy."

If Governor Morrill should announce that he will decline a renomination, it would greatly relieve the political situation at the state house.

SUCCESSFUL BISHOP.

An Effort to Defeat the Work of Salina's Assistant Attorney General.

An effort is being made in Salina to defeat the work being done there by Assistant Attorney General W. W. Bishop, who is the only assistant attorney general in the state who is actually closing up of saloons and joints.

G. Mohler, attorney for a man arrested for violating the prohibitory law, has raised the point that the conditions required by the constitution for the appointment of an assistant attorney general do not exist in Salina county, and that therefore the assistant attorney general has no jurisdiction to try such a case. Mr. Mohler held that the county attorney had never failed to do his duty.

The justice of the peace before whom the case was being tried overruled Mr. Mohler's motion, but the point raised is to be submitted to a jury on a question of facts next week. The case will be tried February 18.

NOTES OF POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Items From All Over the State About Candidates.

It is announced that A. W. Smith and Prof. Frank Nelson of Lindsborg are to be the candidates for the Republican nomination for member of the legislature in McPherson county.

The state convention of Scandinavian Republican clubs will be held at Lindsborg March 6th or 7th. The exact date has not yet been filled.

Prof. C. A. Swenson of Lindsborg is a candidate for delegate at large to the Republican national convention and he has the endorsement of all the Swedish Republicans in the state.

The Beloit Times makes the suggestion that General J. C. Caldwell should be watched as a likely candidate for United States senator.

J. A. Moore and Geo. W. Fulmore are being talked of as candidates for state senator against Dan McTaggart in Montgomery county.

Col. D. S. Elliott of the Coffeyville Journal is the only person now mentioned for the Republican nomination for member of the legislature in Montgomery county.

The Abilene Reflector says J. G. Sioncecker would be a success on the bench.

Frank Lofty is talked of as the probable nominee for state senator on the Populist ticket in Osage county.

G. H. Lamb of Yates Center is receiving some complimentary notices as likely candidate to succeed State Senator Charles F. Scott in LeFlore county.

The Chanute Tribune says Colonel J. C. Carpenter is likely to be selected as delegate at large and John Randolph as delegate from the Third district to the Republican national convention.

W. S. Stambaugh of Abilene wants to go to the Republican national convention from the Fifth district.

Ex-Mayor R. P. Cravens of Salina wants to be a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

W. J. Bailey's congressional boom seems to be confined to Nemaha county just now. The people of the First district want Mr. Broderick returned. The papers say nice things about Mr. Bailey, but insist that he must wait a while longer.

D. M. Frost of Garden City, chairman of the state board of irrigation, is to be a candidate for member of the legislature from Finney county.

The Wellington Mail announces that Mack Love of Cowley county wants to be a candidate for attorney general.

CORONADO REMINISCENCE.

A Smith Center Man Who Made a Trade With the Explorer.

[From the Stockton News.]

The Mankato Monitor makes the statement that the first Kansas exploring party passed through the state in 1535. It has no way of proving this positively, but there must be some reason for believing it because a Smith Center man remembers having traded them a yoke of oxen for a Spanish war horse.

There is good reason for believing that this was the same party that camped down near where the power house now stands, west of the city. Some of the gang were arrested for bootlegging and brought up before Dr. Powell who was then justice of the peace and editor of the Iconoclast. The case was tried before a jury of six men, composed of A. L. Thomas, Joseph Nixon, G. Harwi, Dr. Ainsworth, J. S. Travis Ernest Ruby.

The jury disagreed as to whether the fellows should be set at liberty or burned at the stake and the case was continued.

There are also many of our present citizens, among whom are F. M. Case, then a constable, John Kewley, a liveryman, M. P. Bonebrake, state organizer of the I. O. O. F., Deacon Chambers, editor of the Journal, and Joshua Gadd, the jeweler, who remember of seeing the same party go by.

There seems to be plenty of circumstantial evidence to prove that the Monitor is correct in its statement.

WOMEN BETTER PURIFY.

They Have the Ballot and Politics Certainly Need Purification in Utah.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Feb. 12.—Early this morning the police made an extraordinary raid on the disorderly houses, arresting and conveying to the police station men and women alike. Among the former were about a dozen prominent business men, city officials, two members of the state legislature now in session here, who were locked up like the common herd until the arrival of the police justice, when they were released on bonds.

The exposure has created a profound sensation. The two members of the legislature were booked in fictitious names and their true ones are not divulged. They will doubtless forfeit their bonds and so end the matter as far as they are concerned.

"BACHED" WITH ALLISON.

Col. Holliday Was His Roommate When He Went to College.

Col. C. K. Holliday and William B. Allison, who is prominently mentioned in connection with the Republican presidential nomination were old school mates.

They attended Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa. to do a course in the sciences of their schooling they lived in a single room and cooked their own meals and Col. Holliday says that no one could cook a better meal than Allison.

GLOOMY FOR RAILROADS.

Radical Bills on Corporations Passed by the South Carolina Legislature.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 12.—In the house of representatives all the radical bills aimed at the railroad corporations were passed. Among these measures was one fixing an arbitrary first-class passenger rate of 3 cents per mile and a second-class rate of 2 1/2 cents per mile. The separate coach ("Jim Crow car") bill was also passed.

A new bill was introduced to regulate the movement of cars, trains, and traffic between lines connecting within this state, and to prevent any discrimination in the rates charged for facilities offered such connecting lines, etc.

WICHITA & RETURN $4.62

Via the Great Rock Island Route.

Leaving Topeka at 1:10 p. m. and arriving at Wichita at 6:40 p. m., going through without a change. Remember you do not leave Topeka until after dinner; also, another train leaving Topeka at 10:50 p. m., arriving at Wichita at 5:30 a. m. Through sleepers on night trains. For further information call on your nearest Rock Island agent.

A. M. FULLER,
City Passenger Agent.

Mineral Water.

The finest in the west. Come and try it J. W. PHILLIPS, 612 W. Eighth av.

SNAP SHOTS AT HOME NEWS.

That candidates bloom in the spring, tra la

There are 42 prisoners now in the county jail.

Police Captain Gardiner used to go to school to Councilman Fulton.

Policeman Jack King says he will do no more professional wrestling.

Scotty Kane, the football player, is a candidate for a patrolman'ship.

Wrestler Jack King looks just too swell in his new police uniform.

Mrs. A. S. Embree is ill at her home, corner of Seventh and Taylor streets.

A schedule for each day in the district court this week consists of 30 cases.

Councilman Stephenson is opposed to spending any money in a coal hole.

Meat market proprietors are putting up the price of porter-house steak. Why?

Topeka's sporting element will not be represented at the Maher-Fitzsimmons fight.

The county poor commissioner was called upon to bury three dead infants yesterday.

Frank S. Crane has gone to Albuquerque on a business trip. He will be gone a week.

Miss Lucile Stauffer is seriously ill with typhoid fever at her home, 628 Western avenue.

Eight criminals are now breaking stones for the county under the direction of Officer Kuykendall.

Jailer Diabrow is a strict prohibitionist. If more of the police force were, it would not be so often disgraced.

The new letter head for the sheriff's office contains the names and positions of the six people under Sheriff Kuyper.

The services of three trained nurses have been dispensed with at Christ hospital on account of lack of work at that institution.

The dramatic company of lodge No. 11, A. O. U. W., will render "The Troublesome Household" at their hall Thursday evening.

The Scandinavian Republican club of Topeka will give a masquerade dance at Metropolitan hall on the evening of Washington's birthday.

Shawnee county will be entitled to twenty-four delegates in both the Fourth and Sixth congressional districts at the Republican state convention.

Sheriff Kuyper says that there are five guns missing from the county arsenal. Twenty-eight were bought and he received but twenty-three.

T. H. Hand, advertising manager of the Cosmopolitan magazine, who was formerly with the Kalamazoo and Stationery Co., is visiting in the city.

Richard Mansfield begins a week's engagement at Kansas City next Monday. He is booked for next month at the Grand, but there is no contract.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller of 1034 Prospect street have recovered from the effects of a severe cold.

The residence was fumigated yesterday.

Marshall's band will receive his wives and daughters and sweethearts at the band parlors Monday night. There will be music and refreshments.

A North Topeka school miss came home a few nights ago and informed her father that she was engaged for "demnation." Of course she meant on condition.

At the opera house last night the $10 clerks sat in all the best seats as usual and the richest man in town hid himself in a dark corner of the north side fire exit on a broken-backed three-legged chair.

The members of the police force are unanimous in the opinion that sergeant Ellison should have been discharged with the other policemen who drank Frank Durella's beer.

A man who slept at the police station last night said he was from Cripple Creek. "Keep away from Cripple Creek" was his advice. That's what they told him there, no doubt.

When Poor Commissioner Hale went to his office the first morning the charity rock pile at the fair grounds was started.

She was seven men waiting for him. He says he gave them all orders to go to work and six of them backed out.

Rev. J. G. Dougherty, of Kansas City, Kansas, was in Topeka yesterday.

The right kind of policemen could break up the Racket Hill and Four street gangs, and depopulate Smoky Row; but they must have the right kind of commissioners behind them.

Brigadier General Sully, of the Salvation Army, who used to live in Topeka, is now trying to establish free baths for children in Kansas City, Mo. Everybody who has seen suddenly into a primary school will appreciate what a boon this might be.

WITH A CHILDISH MIND.

James Watson, Colored, is an Instance of "A Man and Brother."

A colored man whose name is James Watson went to Police Judge Ferry's house a night or two ago and told him that he must have a warrant for the arrest of a girl named Hotie Smith.

He said that he had stolen a pair of shoes from him. Judge Ferry was entertaining company and refused to go with the man who said that there was danger of the woman escaping.

The next day Watson secured the warrant and the case came up in police court last evening. It developed that Watson sent the Smith woman $2.40 with which to buy shoes in which to appear respectable at their marriage.

Watson arrived at Hotie's refusal to marry him though she had bought the shoes. Then he had her arrested for stealing the shoes. Police Judge Ferry failed to see any grounds for the charge and discharged the woman.

Wichita and return by the Santa Fe Route, one fare for the round trip. Tickets sold February 15 to 19, good to return including February 24. No change of cars by the Santa Fe Route.

Wichita and return by the Santa Fe Route, one fare for the round trip. Tickets sold February 15 to 19, good to return including February 24. No change of cars by the Santa Fe Route.

Smooth as silk is the way our collars feel now. Peerless Steam Laundry, 112 and 114 W. 8th.

The Journal prints all the news.

DEBUT OF OUR MARY.

Miss Anderson's First Appearance on the Stage.

MILNES LEVICK'S RECOLLECTIONS.

The Veteran Actor Tells the Reason Why the Young Louisville Girl Was Given the Opportunity to Play Juliet—Her Awkwardness and Amateurishness.

Mary Anderson, in her reminiscences shortly to be published, mentions the bores of most of the members of the company when she made her debut on the stage of MacAuley's theater, Louisville, and then speaks in the highest terms of the kindness of Milnes Levick to her on that occasion, when upon her success deferred her future. Who knows that but for the words of encouragement and bits of advice given to the young debutante by the veteran actor we might never have known the genius of Mary Anderson, the only American player of recent years who won unqualified success in hypercritical London?

Milnes Levick lives in a pretty little cottage in East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street, but a short distance from Long Island sound, and I sought him there to get his recollection of the debut of Miss Anderson. The man who is general ly conceded to have been the greatest Mercutio this country has ever seen and one of the very best Macbeths has none of the affectations assumed by many of the latter day one-part actors, and he made no effort to conceal his pleasure at the opportunity given him to say something about an episode which he declares can never be blotted from his memory. In Mr. Levick's own words the story of Mary Anderson's beginning on the stage was as follows:

"It was in 1875 that some persons who were good enough to consider me a pretty fair actor thought that, as patriotism was in the air, owing to the fact that it was centennial year, it might pay to take advantage of the supposed popularity of feeling by starting me in a play dramatized from Cooper's celebrated novel, 'The Spy.'"

It was argued that everybody would flock to the theater to see a play so essentially American. There was no chance of failure, and every one connected with the enterprise was congratulated upon his or her good fortune. Well, I started out, and, strange as it may appear, the people did not flock to see me in 'The Spy.' I got MacAuley's theater in Louisville, and 'The Spy' was done again. We opened to a miserable house on Monday night, which was much worse Tuesday, still worse Wednesday and as nearly as possible zero Thursday. I cannot begin to tell you how bad the business really was. The prospect of my getting back to New York by the following Monday evening to take an engagement which had been offered me at Booth's theater began to grow exceedingly dim, and I went to MacAuley to ask what was to be done. That good natured giant, who was a dear friend of mine, promptly informed me that he would see that I was provided with transportation to New York, and then he said, 'Let me think.' He did think for a long time. At last he looked up with an inspiration. 'I have it,' he exclaimed. 'There is a girl about 16 years of age in this city, who is well connected socially and a general favorite. She is a tragedienne and has assisted me in the acting of several of the most prominent stars who have visited my theater here and read, among them John McCullough. She is constantly studying and rehearsing by herself, and I know that she is up in 'Romeo and Juliet.' I am of the opinion that if we could put her on in that place on Saturday night we could make some money."

"Has she ever acted?" I asked.

"She has no knowledge," replied MacAuley, "but that makes no difference. I am depending upon the curiosity to see her rather than upon any ability she may possess."

"All right," said I, "things certainly cannot be any worse than they are, and I will try the way, what is her name?"

"Mary Anderson," and so a messenger was dispatched to notify Miss Anderson that the manager was anxious to see her at once. That young lady was found upon her return from the cathedral, and she and her mother immediately repaired to the office of Mr. MacAuley, where Miss Anderson was asked if she could be ready to play Juliet by Saturday night and with only one rehearsal. She unhesitatingly replied that she could, as she already had the part "letter perfect." I well remember that it was a rainy, slushy day, but that was a mere trifle to a determined girl who had after careful consideration come to the conclusion that the stage was her destiny.

"MacAuley and I then had another consultation, and it was suggested that I play Romeo. I objected on the double ground that I was not up in the part, and that I had made some little reputation as Mercutio. Besides, it was absolutely necessary that I should have some character which was killed off early in the play, so that I might be enabled to leave on the train for Cincinnati, connecting with the other, who would land me in New York on Monday. Then we set about to cast the play, and to our dismay we found that it was impossible to do it with the company we had. It was decided to telegraph to Mr. MacAuley's Cincinnati theater for a few people who were supposed to be somewhat familiar with 'Romeo and Juliet.' This done, Miss Anderson was notified that a rehearsal would be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning."

"Some of the people were inclined, as Miss Anderson states in her memoirs, to look down upon the ambitious girl who at least temporarily was to be the center of attraction at their expense and by their

ly conceded to have been the greatest Mercutio this country has ever seen and one of the very best Macbeths has none of the affectations assumed by many of the latter day one-part actors, and he made no effort to conceal his pleasure at the opportunity given him to say something about an episode which he declares can never be blotted from his memory. In Mr. Levick's own words the story of Mary Anderson's beginning on the stage was as follows:

"It was in 1875 that some persons who were good enough to consider me a pretty fair actor thought that, as patriotism was in the air, owing to the fact that it was centennial year, it might pay to take advantage of the supposed popularity of feeling by starting me in a play dramatized from Cooper's celebrated novel, 'The Spy.'"

It was argued that everybody would flock to the theater to see a play so essentially American. There was no chance of failure, and every one connected with the enterprise was congratulated upon his or her good fortune. Well, I started out, and, strange as it may appear, the people did not flock to see me in 'The Spy.' I got MacAuley's theater in Louisville, and 'The Spy' was done again. We opened to a miserable house on Monday night, which was much worse Tuesday, still worse Wednesday and as nearly as possible zero Thursday. I cannot begin to tell you how bad the business really was. The prospect of my getting back to New York by the following Monday evening to take an engagement which had been offered me at Booth's theater began to grow exceedingly dim, and I went to MacAuley to ask what was to be done. That good natured giant, who was a dear friend of mine, promptly informed me that he would see that I was provided with transportation to New York, and then he said, 'Let me think.' He did think for a long time. At last he looked up with an inspiration. 'I have it,' he exclaimed. 'There is a girl about 16 years of age in this city, who is well connected socially and a general favorite. She is a tragedienne and has assisted me in the acting of several of the most prominent stars who have visited my theater here and read, among them John McCullough. She is constantly studying and rehearsing by herself, and I know that she is up in 'Romeo and Juliet.' I am of the opinion that if we could put her on in that place on Saturday night we could make some money."

"Has she ever acted?" I asked.

"She has no knowledge," replied MacAuley, "but that makes no difference. I am depending upon the curiosity to see her rather than upon any ability she may possess."

"All right," said I, "things certainly cannot be any worse than they are, and I will try the way, what is her name?"

"Mary Anderson," and so a messenger was dispatched to notify Miss Anderson that the manager was anxious to see her at once. That young lady was found upon her return from the cathedral, and she and her mother immediately repaired to the office of Mr. MacAuley, where Miss Anderson was asked if she could be ready to play Juliet by Saturday night and with only one rehearsal. She unhesitatingly replied that she could, as she already had the part "letter perfect." I well remember that it was a rainy, slushy day, but that was a mere trifle to a determined girl who had after careful consideration come to the conclusion that the stage was her destiny.</